Highway Robbert.—A man named Daniel McClosky was knocked down about one o'clock yesterday morning, on the corner of Campbell and Findley-streets, and robbed of a watch valued at $20, and a wallet containing four or five dollars in money. It must be exceedingly pleasant to be struck on the head with a slung-shot, robbed, and then left sensoless in the street, to recover or die, as the case may be. Mr. McClosky reached his residence, on Findlay-street, near John, with some difficulty, and is confined to the house from the injuries he received. If half a dozen scoundrels were shot in the act of committing these outrages, the remainder would prohably change their quarters. BELL AND EVERETT CLUB IN COLUMBIA

Township.—A Bell and Everett Club has been formed at India Hill, Columbia Township, and already numbers over fifty members. The following embodies the determination of the club: the club:

Hesober, That we hall with enthusiasm the nom-nation of John Bell for the Presidency, and Edwar Secrett for the Vien-Presidency, and that we, "to man," will you for them whether any body else dos or not.

The following officers were elected to serve until John Hell is seated in the Presidential chair: Kugene Armstrong, President; Lane Ready Vice-President; Wm. McLelland, Secretary Albert Turning, Treasurer.

Almournment of the Directors of the Marietta and Cinoinnate Railway.—The Board of Directors of this road have adjourned without perfecting an organization. Noah L. Wilson, Esq., was elected temporary President but it is understood that he is not disposed to occupy the position permanently, but arges the selection of some other person at an early day. W. F. Roelofson, Esq., was also elected Secretary pro tem.

The road is now free from mortgage incumbrance, but the new Board were authorized to make a loan of $3,000,000, and mortgage the road to secure the payment, which will be the only mortgage in existence. They will therefore probably have no difficulty in mising the necessary funds to put the road in good condition.

Removal of the Remains of William

REMOVAL OF THE REMAINS OF WILLIAM WOODWARD—ADDRESSES BY B. P. HINMAN AND I. J. ALLEY.—The remains of William Woodward and his wife were removed from the old Twelfth-street Cemetery, and deposited it is hoped, never again to be disturbed, in the Woodward School Lot. The disinterment was done under the superintendence of old Twelfth-street Centetery, and deposited, it is hoped, neveragain to be disturbed, in the Woodward School Lot. The disinter-tient was done under the superintendence of John Dale Esq., President of the "Old Woodward Club."

The monument was taken down with great care; and, after three or four hours labor, the surcophagus inclosing the coffin was removed, and all earthy that remained of the venerated dead was exposed to view. William Woodward was buried on the 24th of January, 1835, twenty-seven years ago; and, although a large number assisted in the rite of vesterday, there was but one present that was at the first ceremonies.

The wife of Mr. Woodward, who was buried about seven years since, was also taken up—a duty that the members of the club generously took upon themselves. At four o'clock precisely, the remains of each were placed in seperate hearses, and followed by about thirty of the "old Woodward boys." The procession proceeded directly to the school fot, or Woodward-street, where the bodies were deposited. The graves were dug directly in front of the building, which will ever remain a monument of its generous founder, and the coffins entombed in comented vaults.

Mr. B. P. Human was then introduced by Mr. Cist, and made quite a neat and elegant address. He culogised the deceased in the highest terms, and after paying a beautiful tribute to his memory, gave way to Mr. I. J. Allea, Superintendent of the Public Schools, who characterized the lamented deed as a man who had profited by the maxim of the older Scipio—not to blive for himself, but for others—and said that his name was crowned with a indic of glory, which would shine in all its brilliancy when the sun had been blotted from the Heavens, and the Universe had gone back into choos. The coffins were then forever shut from the view of the friends who had withesed their removal, and the assembly mourofully dispersed.

SENTENCE OF A HOMICIDE AND DESPREADO.

SENTENCE OF A HOMICIDE AND DESPERADO.—
Geo. W. Bruest, the man who was taken from this city to St. Louis, tried and convicted upon a charge of murder, has been sentenced to be hung, in that city, on Friday, the 3ist of August. Since his conviction Bruest has made another attempt to take life. He assaulted the jailer, and, but for the interference of several of the prisoners, would have killed him. After this he was ironed and placed in solitary confinement, but by some means slipped his shack-les, and to secure him it was found necessary to place on his limbs a double set of irons.

ATTEMPTED WIFE MURDER .- A man name

LETTERS DETAINED FOR WANT OF POSTAGE, Friday, August 3: Augustus Cooke, Callao, Pern, South America. A. J. Alexander, Franklin, Ind. John H. Young, Harmst, Ohio, John M. Brown, Richmond, Ind. Mary Leumelserry, New Lebanon, Ohio. Mary Glemby, Lebanon, Ohio. ct. In accordance with resolutions from Cour NUMBERS OF DAILY PRESS WANTED.— Twenty cents will be paid for each of the following numbers of Vol. II: 80, 53, 71, 72, 73, 74 and 130. Apply at Counting-room.

In accordance with resolutions from Council, the clerk was ordered to advertise for proposals to bowlder Clay-street, from Allison to Liberty; Ross-alley, from Canal to Twelfth, and to pave the unpaved sidewalks on Clay-street, from Thirteeth to Allison.

The clerk was ordered to transmit to Council ordinances as tollows: To bowlder Hatter-salley, from Race to Vine; to pave sidewalks on Walnut-street, between Allison and Liberty, and on Cutter, from Clark to Hopking to bowlder Hand-alley, from Court to Clark; Livingston-street, from Linu to Baymiller, and Werner, from Findley to Livingston.

POCKET PICKED.—The pocket of a lady, whose name we suppress, by request, was picked on Fifth-street, near Vine, a day or two ago, of a purse containing fifteen or twenty dollars, in bank bills and coin. Cour or Soluil.—Henry Meyers, one of the Deputy Marshals at the Police Court, was overcome by the heat, while crossing the bridge across the canal on Main-street, yes-day about noon, and is now lying in a very critical condition at his residence on the Hamilton-road, near Moore's Garden.

Ten days' extension was allowed Jones & Bonte, to complete the paving of Providence-street, as building material in the street had delayed them.

The sum of $5 was allowed to John Sellers, to pay for an assessment which had been wrongfully made on private property.

Mr. Kiersted gave notice that a new bridge would be required at Court and Broadway before long.

Man's Hand Manded.—A man named Joseph Green, an employe in a planing-mill on Front-street, day before yesterday, had his hand severely injured by accidentally getting it entangled in some machinery. His hand was badly mangled before it was extricated, and it is probable that amputation will be necessary.

The Recent Assault in Cherry-Alley,— Wm. O'Brien, Thomas O'Brien and Henry Collins, were examined before Judge Lowe yesterday morning, charged with an assault upon Thomas Rooman, that occurred a few nights since in Cherry-alley. Thomas O'Brien and Henry Collins were discharged, but Wm. O'Brien was fined $20 and costs.

Mr. Kiersted gave notice that a new bridge would be required at Court and Broadway before long.

A communication was received from D. Urner, complaining that the street in front of his residence had been clogged up with building materials, and asking their removal. Mr. Stagge stated that he had already ordered the removal of the materials.

The Commissioner of the Eastern District was authorized to repair the intersection of South Canal and Vine-streets.

Mr. Stagge stated that the foot-bridge over the Miami Canal, at Fourteenth-street was in a very dangerous condition, and a new one ought to be constructed forthwith.

The Clerk was finally ordered to advertise for proposals for a new foot-bridge, the bidders to set forth their own plana, and to state the materials to be used.

The question of awarding the construction of the Walnut-street sewer was taken up. At first there was a disposition to award it to Mr. Wiltzee, but Mr. Cordeman being some $200 the lowest bidder, and fully responsible, his claims were strongly pressed. The estimates of the two bids are as follows:

Wiltsee.

4.749 76 Cordeman. PROCERDINGS OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.
At their regular diurnal session, yesterday morning, the County Commissioners passed orders amounting in the aggregate to $83-44; of which $14-46 were paid to Patrick Turrel, for limber for the Long View Lunatic Asylum, and $48-98 to C. H. Wehrmann, for bread for the County Jail. No other business of importance was transacted.

Wiltree Fordeman After the merits of the two bidders had been pretty well canvassed, the work was awarded to Cordeman. Adjourned.

Business Men's Prayer Merting.—The meeting was opened by reading a portion of Scripture. The reader delivered a powerful exhortation to the meeting to look for direct answer to their prayers. We should not be surprised, he said, if God answered our prayers in the very act of supplication. [If we had the faith that would remove mountains, it would seem a light thing to have faith that God can answer prayer in the very act.]

A mother sent a petition for prayers for her unconverted son. She asked that the whole meeting would pray for him. Rev. Mr. Archibald, by request, led, and a prayer was offered that seemed irresistible.

A young man who had obtained justiff, cation, asked "the prayers of God's children that the spirit would bless him with the promised gift of sanctification." Prayer was accordingly made that the spirit would fulfil its promise.

A stranger in an interior village, who had heard of the power of these meetings, sent a letter asking prayers for several individuals, especially the business men where he lived, who greatly needed divine aid.

A colored man said that some years ago he was a bank messenger in this city: now he is God's messenger in Canada. He asked prayers for their colored brethren all over the Continent and the adjacent islands.

Two soms desired the meeting to help them with their prayers to bring over their father, who was an enemy to Jesus—"an enemy of Infinite Love."

A man spoke of the number of young persons present; he said that vacation time was almost gone, and Christ was anxious to receive them, but no special effort had been made to bring them to his arms.

Union Prayer-meeting in the Church of the Atonement.—The meeting was led by Judge Storer. What a change has Christianity wrought! Christ pronounced a special woo on the lawyers; now we find them foremost in prayer-meetings.

The pastor of the church spoke of the great sacrifice of Christ that God might, con-

ATTEMPTED WIFE MURDER.—A man named Joho Parkinson was arrested about noon yesterday, and lodged in the Ninth-street Station-house, upon a charge of assault with intent to kill. It appears that he was partially intoxicated, and while in this condition became angry with his wife, and struck her with a heavy file, and afterward stabbed her once or twice with a large knife. Just at this moment some persons interfered, who prevented him from doing any further damage, and sent for a physician to dress the wounds of his wife, whose injuries, although quite painful and severe, are not likely to prove fatal.

The pastor of the church spoke of the great sacrifice of Christ that God might, consistent with justice, pardon the sins of the world.

Judge Storer enforced the five-minute rule, and said that brevity was the soul of prayer.

Rev. Mr. Hether said that after David had sinned grievously with Uriah's wife, he asked God to restore him the joys of his salvation, suid then he could teach trangressors the ways of the Lord. It was so with ourselves. A "city missionary to Roman Catholies" alluded to the presence in the meeting of six converts from the great beast of the Apocalypse, to the true religion, which he thought a subject for great gratitude to God.

[If these conversions are by the operation of the spirit, they prove conclusively by divine evidence, which is the true church, and which is the false.]

BURGLARY IN ELM-STREET.—The residence of a carpenter named N. Harrell, located at No. 312 Elm-street, was feloniously entered aight before last and robbed of jewelry valued at $15, and a porte-monnaic containing a similar sum in money. The burglar entered a room in which a daughter of Mr. H. lay sleeping, and she, thinking it was her mother, called to her, when the thief became alarmed and made his exit. The entrance was effected by means of a ladder, which was placed against the rear of the house, and rendered ingress through the second story window quite easy.

Another.—The residence of Andreas Grawindow quite easy.

Another.—The residence of Andreas Gradle, at No. 462 Elm-street, was also entered during the same night and robbed of a portemonase containing $42, which was found in the dress of a female who was asleep in the room. The door of the building had been left ajur, and the burglar found easy access to all the rooms in the house. to all the rooms in the house.

Serious Appray—A Gibi. Severely Syabbon in the Neck.—A female named Ellen Ryan, who resides, we believe, in Covington, visited this city night before last, in company with a couple of men named Henderson and McFarland. She spent the time until about one o'clock at a drinking-house on Eighth-street, near Sycamore, and by indulging in frequent potations of villainous liquor, the men became quite drunk, and asked the girl to accompany them home. She refused, and this aroused the brutal part of Henderson's nature, when he became enraged, and, drawing a knife, inflicted a very dangerous wound in the neck of the girl, from which it is quite likely she will not recover. A physician was immediately called in, who gave her all the attention in his power, but during the excitement Honderson made his escape, and we believe has not yet been arrested.

A Jovenne Thier.—A lad named Daniel Smith was arraigned, yesterday morning, before Judge Lowe, upon a charge of petty larceny. It appears that he entered Hunter's grocery-store, on Sixth-street, near Plain, during the temporary absence of the proprietor, on Thursday morning, and stole $11 from the money-drawer. He was detected, however, in the act, and sent to the dungeon of the County Jail for a term of five days, and fined $10 and costs.

Intranstring to Politicians.—We call attention to the advertisement of Mack R. Barnits, in this morning's issue of the Passa. He is publishing a number of campaigning documents, suitable for all parties, and is offering large inducements to reliable and energetic agents.

Board of City Infraversers.—At the regular semi-weekly session of the Board of City Improvementa, held yesterday morning, a resolution was received from Council ordering the Commissioners to remove the old limestone pavements, and have them broken and placed on Gest-street. A majority of the Board seemed to think Council did not know what it was about, and the matter was referred to the Commissioners, who were requested to confer with the City Council in regard to it.

A resolution from the same source, instructing the Board to procure temporary quarters for the city officers, was referred to Messurs, Kiersted and Gilbert, with power to act.

facts as they were developed yesterday, and as they differ from those that have been already related:

It appears that D. J. Wheeler and Henry Skillman, attended the picnic together, and in the evening repaired with the rest of the company to the ball at Kemper Hall, in the village of St. Bernard. About ten o'clock they determined to go home and left the hall. Wheeler, however, proposed to take some ice-cream, and went into the dining-room for that purpose, but Skillman did not follow. A few minutes afterward some one said that S. was engaged in a fight, and W. ran out just in time to catch his dying friend in his arms, and prevent him from falling to the ground from the effect of his wounds.

At this moment a party of four persons came up, one of whom struck Wheeler a severe blow in the face, and he was obliged to leave his friend to defend himself. Being overpowered by numbers, and thinking it quite probable he also would be killed, he knocked one or two of the party down, and then ran away.

When he was beyond the reach of the rioters be repaired to a creek and washed himself. While deliberating as to what course it would be best to pursue, he heard the approach of a horseman, of whom he inquired as to the fate of Skillman, and was informed that he was dead, and also that the party was incensed against him (Wheeler) to such an extent that it would not be safe for him to return.

ich an extent that it would not be safe for when James McClelland was agrested, he stated that he, in company with the other defendants, was in the act of taking a brother home who was too much inebriated to take care of himself, and that Skillman ran against and pushed them down, whereupon a fight ensued, during which he stabbed S. so that he died. This confession was made to the arresting officers, Messrs. Reany and Watson, and with this testimony the examination closed. James McClelland was committed to juil to answer a charge of murder in the second degree at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of $5,000 bail, and the others were discharged.

Personal.—Mr. A. O. Russell, formerly connected with the job department of the Enquirer, will leave the city this morning for Memphis, which place he will hereafter make his home. His friends here, appreciating his many excellent qualities, yesterday, presented him with a splendid gold pencilcase and pen, and a copy of Webster's Unstaridged Dictionary. Short, neat and elegant speeches were delivered upon both of the occasions, and they passed off in the most agreeable manner. It is unnecessary to commend Mr. R. to the typographical fraternity in Memphis, for he is as well-known and as highly esteemed there as here, and besides this we feel assured his innate goodness of heart will make friends for him wherever he may be. He is too clever to part with willingly; but since it must be, he will carry with him a host of kind wishes, which, if such prayers are ever answered, will render him successful beyond his highest expectations.

Robbert — Mr. Andrew Blum, of the Spencer House, who, having driven out to the Trotting Park, a day or two ago, left his coat in his carriage, and both in charge of a boy, discovered, on his return to town, that his pocket had been relieved of his porte-monage, containing a lot of bank notes and several little mementoes, which he highly prized. Mr. Blum says if the thief will return the pocket-book he is welcome to the money.

RIVER NEWS.

The Ohio opposite this port underwent very little change yesterday; having become station-ary in the morning, and begun to recede very slowly n the afternoon. Last evening there were, ac-ording to the report from the Water-works, eight feet and on inch water in the channel between here and Louisville. At Pittsburg the river was receding esterday, with four and a half feet water there at Nesterday was intensely hot—one of the most tor-rid days of this torrid season; the thermometrical mercury reaching % and % in the shade. There were no symptoms of rain, which would be very grateful at present in the city. The Landing continued very dull, and freights were offered in very moderate quantities at the pre-vious faure.

Yesterday's Loniaville Conrier observes:

The river, as was anticipated, commenced rising vesterday, and at dark had risen fully two inches at the wharf, making three feet ten inches water in the anally the mark. At Portland, the foot of the alls, the river had rises six inches. The weather ontinues dry and warm, the heat in the afternoon, a the shade, ranging nearly to ninety. We learn that the Pocahontas is undergoing re-airs at Madison, to place her in the Louisville and airs trade.

We learn that the Pecahontas is undergoing repairs at Madison, to place her in the Louisville and Lairo trade.

The rates of freight to New Orleans and was places have been slightly advanced, as follows: Pound-freights, Sanston, 1987, 1981 25; whisky, $1 2561 50 per bri., Rour, 548950.; potates and onlone, 75c, pot bri. Lard per there, $1 50; lard in Regs. 25c; mules per head, Se, and horses $10.

Mock to Gaire and Memphis, 5065 per head; pound freights to Memphis, 75c, whisky, 75c, per bril, flowr, 5cc, potatoses and onlone, the same.

The Lower Ohio River is still receding, with about two feet in the channel.

The Hinisa liver is about stationary, with thirty inches in the channel at Pooria, and twenty-six inches in the Channel at Pooria, and twenty-six inches in the United States in the Channel. The Keckut, reckets, for one week past, may all been detained by potting acround.

The Missouri River is falling from Onuba down, with four and a half feet in the channel.

Wednesday's New Orleans Cresced informs us: Dullness on the levee increases at an apparently increasing pace. The tight pressure of freight shipments to various points on the lever increases at an apparently increasing pace. The tight pressure of freight shipments to various points on the lever increases in the same disastromy feet to our steamboatmen. Of course there is a low stage of water in the rivers, yet shipments can be minde and carried through to their proper destination with but little delay. Shipper's appear to regard this fact has frandulent, and steamboate, whose dependence at this season of the year restauring all the stream in the same condition as heretofore, and as a consequence free navigation is opposed to light, draft boats, in case a fair degree of pairomage be extended to light. A DRUKKEN BRUTE KILLED WHILE BRATING INS WIFE —A night or two since, says the Memphis Evening Argus, an Irish laborer, Patrick Callahan, who, with his finnily, occupied a miserable shanty at the foot of Market-street, below the mouth of Wolf River, while under the influence of liquor attempted to chastise his wife for some cause, and commenced beating her with a board. The screams of the woman and curses of the husband, attracted some unknown person to the spot, who, it seems, interfered, when a struggle ensued between him and Callahan, which was terminated by the latter's death at his hands. This morning Callahan's body was discovered lying in the shanty beside that of his wife, who seemed stapefred from fiquor.
Callahan was but very slightly bruised in the encounter, and it is supposed that his death was produced by a pistol hall, which, from appearances, had cruck him in the side of the mouth, passing through one of the lips and knocking out a tooth.

Thursday's Now York Tebence observes in regard to Wednesday last:

In opening transactions at the Stock Erchange there was some disposition to hammer the market on sellers option contracts, the demonstration being mainty against New York Contral, and Reading These stocks were but slightly affected, however, and when the Western shares were reached in the calls, the market was rampant beyond any thing witnessed since the present rise commenced, and from that point to the close of the session, the tislewas all in one direction. The racest decided advances were in Southern Guaranteed, Hilmoir Central, Galona, Rock Island, Toledo, and Chrisage, Burlingter and Quincy, the quodations ranging from 12 to 5 percent, ligher than at the close of yesterday. The demand was extraordinary, and for a time there was a sever still higher, and there were the Boards prigos were for the bad been pressed for all in the horizing.
